

Hello Room 11 Parents,

We are looking for mystery readers to come in and read to the class. A mystery reader is a parent who comes in at the end of the day (preferably on Fridays) to read their favorite children's book to the class. In addition to this, the mystery reader may bring a small treat that relates to the story. This can be an item such as erasers, rings, stickers, stamps, candy, or pencils. Mystery readers may also plan a small activity to correlate to the story for the class to complete.

If you are interested in coming in to participate as a mystery reader, please fill out the form below. I will get back to you with a date and time for you to come in.

Student's name: _____

Mystery Reader: _____

Relationship to the student: _____

Email: _____

Book you plan to read: _____

Activity planned (if you have one): _____

Day & Time that works best for you: _____

Because school events and learning take place first, I will do my best to accommodate your schedule.

Thank you for offering to your time to our classroom. The students love having visitors. Just remember to keep this a secret! ☺

Thank you,

Mrs. Zamora
