Week of October 7, 2024

A PEEK AT OUR WEEK

Reading This week, we will read books related to fall & spiders, both fiction and nonfiction. We will also be reviewing sight words, blends, digraphs and rimes.

Spelling & Homework No homework packets or spelling test this week. Instead, you have a "Turkey in disguise" project to complete. Directions are coming home with your child on Friday, Sept. 20th.

Writing This week, we will write all about our fall break. We'll review nouns & adjectives, ABC order, asking and telling sentences, and work on our punctuation.

Math We will continue to practice and work on our addition and subtraction facts to 20 as well as other strategies such as turn around facts, doubles, and fact families.

**Please continue to practice math facts at home for quick recall. All of our lessons will build upon each other. Therefore, knowing addition and subtraction facts quickly will help your child immensely.*

Turkeys in Disguise project

Paperwork with details are coming home Sept. 20th. Please send your child's turkey in anytime between now and Oct. 25th! We will be displaying them.

Notes

Snap your fingers...and just like that...we're back! I hope all of you had a great fall break and are well rested! I am very excited to see the kids and also hear about their fall break, how many teeth they lost, and see how they have grown.

*This week we will revisit our classroom rules, procedures, and expectations for behavior and learning. It is very important the kids are ready to start 2nd quarter as we will be VERY BUSY learning new concepts and building upon others.

Warmly, Mrs. Dafoe
