

THE INTERSECTION OF ART & BUSINESS

The Graphic Design program prepares students to perform in a professional environment and develop strategies for time management, effective communication, creative problem solving, and meeting requirements. All of this will be accomplished while maintaining a high level of quality in the assignments and meeting specified deadlines. The program will provide students with a hands-on, interactive learning environment.

The students will be working in a computer lab equipped with advanced computer hardware and software; the same tools being used at professional firms. Students will create "real-life" projects, such as: identity systems, marketing collateral packages, product advertisements, promotional posters and brochures, photographic composites, design briefs and corporate profiles, apparel designs, web site layouts and many other items critical to success in the professional world.
